

Columbia Chemistry Careers Committee

Putting Your Degree to Work: Practical Career Strategies for Ph.D.s

Drug Discovery at a Biotech Start-Up: Locus Pharmaceuticals

Dr. Frank Hollinger

Group Leader, Computational Chemistry

Locus Pharmaceuticals is a privately held pharmaceutical company organized in September 1999, and is based on technology exclusively licensed from the Sarnoff Corporation (SRI International). The Locus Pharmaceuticals process is a novel computational approach for rapidly designing small molecule therapeutic compounds that can act as antagonists or agonists of protein activity.

Friday, March 7, 2003

NOON - 1:00 PM

328 Havemeyer Hall (Miller Room)

Reception to follow

This event is sponsored by the Columbia Chemistry Careers Committee (C4), a student and post doc-run group dedicated to taking an active role in increasing interesting career choices for Ph.D.s and preparing scientists to make informed career decisions. For more information, please visit the web site at <http://www.columbia.edu/cu/chemistry/c4/cccc.html> or send email to cccc@chem.columbia.edu

Department of Chemistry • Columbia University • 3000 Broadway • New York, NY 10027